Screen 1

This screen identifies critical features of the Site's Home Page. The Home Page will be available to nonregistered and registered members. Features of the Home Page include entry into the individual industry-specific areas, tours and registration information. Although all individual industry-specific pages will feature news, trade show information, etc. specific to that industry, all will route into the same exchange for trading.

Screen 1: Site Home Page.

Screen 2

This screen identifies critical industry offerings of each industry-specific page. This area of the Site will be designed by the Company to serve as an industry gathering place. A sense of community within each industry, including food ingredients, will be created via news, special reports, discussions, etc. The Company envisions this area as providing ample space for advertising.

As evidenced in Screens 1, 2, 3, 4, 5a, 5b and 5c, the Company's Site will be facilitating complicated transactions in a compressed time frame. It is critical that the interface be designed for this purpose with graphic elements that are functional and pleasing to the eye. Careful consideration will be given to ensure the best suitable interface is created for this product.
